As long as one can never tell what the future is going to bring forth, it is a mighty wise thing to be partially prepared, at least, for almost everything.

No matter what other preparation is made, financial preparedness should be an essential. And to be financially prepared --- for worst or best --- one must start early.

Therefore --- "Start Saving NOW!"

Governor Pinkham yesterday granted a full pardon and restoration of civil rights to Roger James who, after serving seven years in Oahu prison for first-degree burglary, was paroled by Governor Frear on July 22, 1910, a year before the expiration of his term. In his application James explained he had atoned as far as possible for his crime. Many letters of recommendation accompanied the application.

The members of Company B, Captain Paul Super, and Company D, Captain Walter V. Kolb, of the national guard of Hawaii, went to school last night, the big floor of the armory being the class room and 1st Lieut. Arthur L. Bump, inspector-instructor of the guard, the teacher. To the average recruit, the Springfield rifle, now used by the United States army as well as the national guard, appears to be an intricate piece of machinery, but by practical demonstration, Lieutenant Bump proved that, when one learns the several parts and how each may be removed for cleaning or other purposes, it is a simple yet unique piece of mechanism.

For more than two hours Lieutenant Bump explained to the guardsmen everything pertaining to their rifles; how to take them apart, and, lastly, how to clean them. He pointed out the workings of the magazine, the cut-off and the safety appliances, and then proceeded to instruct the men how to fire from the positions of standing, kneeling and sitting, bringing in at this time the important matter of adjustment of sights. It proved to be an interesting evening, and the guardsmen listened with marked attention.

Advance copies of the Small Arms Firing Manual, 1913, have been received here. The course for the organized militia is changed, the old Special Course C being abolished.

The general scheme of instruction for the organized militia embraces: First, a certain amount of instruction in the preliminary drills and exercises, followed by gallery practice, with a prescribed test before the soldier can be advanced to practice of the target range; second, a definite course of instruction practice, under which, by selected scores of five shots each, a soldier must attain a certain proficiency before he can be advanced to fire the record practice, organized militia, or the qualification course, regular army; third, a definite test, either the qualification course, organized militia, or the qualification course, regular army, at the discretion of the territorial authorities, under which the soldier attains a certain grade in marksmanship; fourth, long range practice.

All the guard companies have let up on their strenuous program of drills that the recent military tournament and Washington's birthday parade made necessary. Most of the organizations were getting in three nights a week, with Sunday morning thrown in, but for the next few months this will be greatly modified. The regiment is filled up with newly-made officers and non-commissioned officers, and all of these will have to come before examining boards during March---probably the latter part of the month. The required time for study, and one drill night a week, with an extra evening for non-com. school, will be the program adopted by most of the companies.

One of the local Japanese papers, in describing the military parade of last Monday, says that the best-looking troops were the 25th Infantry and the Kam cadets. The story goes on to say that "the most amusing feature of the parade was the Hawaiian National Guard. There were Hawaiians, white men, black men, Filipinos, Chinese, fat men, tall men, thin men," etc., etc., with a closing shaft of satire to the effect that the officers, being unused to military matters, looked very much out of place. There is no Japanese company in the National Guard of Hawaii.

Lieut. A. L. Bump, inspector-instructor, will visit Maui and Hawaii next month, to inspect the guard companies on those islands. He plans to leave here March 7, inspecting 1 company, at Lahaina, on Sunday, the 8th, 1 company, Waialua, the 15th, and 8th company, Hilo, the 22d. Colonel Coyne intends to make at least a part of this trip with the inspector-instructor.

The members of Company D next Sunday will hike out to the Kakaako butts to try out over the three ranges in preparation for shooting for the Hannestad trophy, a handsome cup offered by a former sergeant of the company. Those who intend going to the range will meet at the armory at 8 o'clock in the morning.

The new weaves and color combinations in Adler-Rochester clothes for this spring are especially suitable for the younger men, while the excellent blue serges and narrow-striped blacks are eminently desirable for the older men. But see them all, anyway, at the Ideal Clothing Co., Pantheon building.

Now that the Carnival is all over, there is time to think about eating, and in this respect, think about the good, home-cooked, farm-raised products you enjoyed at the Hotel Aubrey, Hauula, on the other side of the island, then repeat the experience. The meals are just as good if not better than when you last were there.

HAWAIIAN BAND PLAYS AT FUNERAL OF FORMER MEMBER, JOHN S. ELLIS

The funeral of John Sumner Ellis took place this morning from William's undertaking parlor at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives in large numbers were present at the services and later accompanied the body to Nuanu cemetery where it was interred in the family plot. As the last rites were said over the body, the Hawaiian band, with which the famous singer was connected for years, played. Ernest Kai's orchestra also played. Many beautiful floral offerings were received.
